M-Files Named as Finalist in Three Categories
in 5th Annual Document Manager Awards

Document Manager Winners to Be Announced in London on September 29

DALLAS, TX and TAMPERE, FINLAND, August 10, 2011: M-Files Corporation, the developer of M-Files easy document management software and the cloud-based document management service M-Files Cloud Vault, today announced the company has been selected as a Finalist in three categories in the 5th annual Document Manager (DM) Awards for the Document and Content Management Industry, presented by Document Manager Magazine.

M-Files is a Finalist in the following categories: Records Management Product of the Year, SME Content Management Software Product of the Year, and Workflow/BPM product of the Year.

The DM Awards acknowledge and reward business excellence, best products, services and companies across all sectors, private and public. More than 100 entries were submitted for consideration in 27 categories. Winners will be announced during an awards ceremony and dinner at the Hotel Russell in London on Thursday, September 29th. Hundreds of guests from vendors, distributors and service organizations are expected to attend the dinner and ceremony.

"We're honored to be among the group of companies recognized by the DM Awards program this year, and believe this is a strong validation of the value M-Files easy document management provides to our customers and partners," said Antti Nivala, CEO of M-Files Corporation. "The selection of M-Files as a finalist in three categories demonstrates our commitment to developing solutions that vastly improve the way businesses manage their vital documents on a daily basis."

About The DM Awards
Heading for its 5th year, the Document Manager Awards continues to acknowledge the best products, services and companies in the UK Document and Content Management industry. As in the past two years, an independent judging panel of industry experts will evaluate the Project entries and decide the results. The rest of the categories are open to public voting. The winners will also be presented with a framed Awards Winners Certificate, a Winners trophy and the Winners logo, thus giving winners a great chance to add a powerful punch to their 2011/2012 marketing, advertising and PR activities. About DM Magazine
DM Magazine has covered applications that overlap with its central tenet of Document Management, including Knowledge & Content Management, E-mail, Records and Archive Management, as well as 'peripheral' technologies such as security, storage systems and networking. Included in our broad definition of Document Management would be scanning & imaging, data capture, recognition, archiving and retrieval, workflow & business process automation and intra/internet solutions. In recent years, there has been a shift in emphasis towards Enterprise Content Management, and therefore integration with line-of-business applications, ROI and similar strategic issues are also covered regularly. More information about DM Magazine can be found at www.dmmagazine.com.
